

Example 1:

Team A is awarded a new possession of the ball with twenty-two (22) seconds remaining on the game clock.

Interpretation:

The twenty-four (24) second clock shall be switched off.

Example 2:

With ten (10) seconds on the game clock and six (6) seconds on the twenty-four (24) second clock, B4 in the frontcourt of team A intentionally kicks the ball.

Interpretation:

Team A is awarded a throw-in in the frontcourt. The twenty-four (24) second clock shall be switched off.

Example 3:

With eighteen (18) seconds on the game clock and three (3) seconds on the twenty-four (24) second clock player B1 in his backcourt deliberately kicks the ball.

Interpretation:

The game is resumed with a throw-in for team A in his frontcourt with eighteen (18) seconds on the game clock and fourteen (14) seconds on the twenty-four (24) second clock.

Example 4:

With seven (7) seconds on the game clock and three (3) seconds on the twenty-four (24) second clock player B1 in his backcourt deliberately kicks the ball.

Interpretation:

The game is resumed with a throw-in for team A in his frontcourt with seven (7) seconds on the game clock and the twenty-four (24) second clock shall be switched off.